Two goals, one saving plan

Name _____ Date _____

	Short-term goal	Long-term goal
What I would save for
About how much ($)
How many weeks
Money to set aside each week

One want I would pause to hit the short-term goal:

A simple budget

Name _____ Date _____

Sample: You have $30 for a month of 'fun + save.' Goal: $12 saved for a class t-shirt. Needs (bus/snack fund) $10. How much is left for wants?

Budget part	Amount ($)	Need, want, save, or donate?
Money I have or will get
Need 1
Want 1
Save
Donate (optional)

Does it balance (in = out + save)? ☐ Yes ☐ Not yet — I would change:

Think like a consumer

Name _____ Date _____

Ad line: 'Only 24 hours left! Grade 5's #1 water bottle. Only $28. Your friends already have it.'

Influence I notice	How it tries to work

I already have a bottle that works. Would I buy this? Why or why not?

A better question I can ask before any buy:

Four jobs for $25

Name _____ Date _____

You have $25 this month (sample). Goal: $8 toward a used bike helmet (safety = a need). You also want snacks and may donate $2 to a class fundraiser.

Job	Amount	What it is for

What I would cut if I only had $18:

My Grade 5 financial plan

Name _____ Date _____

1. One need and one want I am honest about:

2. One short-term goal (what, $, when):

3. Mini-budget (in / needs / wants / save):

In	Needs	Wants	Save

4. One consumer influence I will watch for:
